THE MONDAY REPORT

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

JUNIOR COLLEGE DIVISION 202 SKYLAND BLVD. TUSCALOOSA, AL 36406

October 28, 1985 LUCY KUBISZYN, Editor

****

COFFEE POT FOR NEW OPTIONS

The coffee pot belonging to the New Options Program is missing. If you know where it is, please contact Paula Sue Hayes, WyNora Freeman, or Betty Gibbons.

****

MUSIC CONCERT SERIES

Dr. Frederick Hyde will be the featured performer at the Monday Concert Series scheduled for Monday, October 28, at 12:00 noon in the music room. The public is invited to attend.

****

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCES

A look at the future of higher education will be the theme for the professional development conferences scheduled across the state for the personnel of Alabama's two-year colleges.

Shelton State will play host to 135 science instructors from the two-year system for the conference scheduled November 6-8. Dr. Lee Albritton is chairman of the conference.

A former member of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission will be the kick-off speaker for the conference. Dr. Victor Gilinsky, who served on the commission from 1975-1984 is scheduled to speak on Wednesday, November 6, at 1:30 p.m. in Ballroom Two of the Stafford Inn. Gilinsky will speak on "Nuclear Energy Today."

Gilinsky, 50, was known as the toughest member of the five-man commission during his second term and is the last of the original five commissioners to leave office. Gilinksy served during the 1979 Three-Mile Island reactor accident in Middletown, Pennsylvania and is the last non-Reagan appointee.

Edith Efron, author of THE APOCALYPTICS: CANCER AND THE BIG LIE will speak on Wednesday, November 6, at 8:00 p.m. in Ballroom Two of the Stafford Inn. Her book has been called a devastating expose of the politicization of the science that underlies cancer regulation.

Ms. Efron has appeared before scientific and technical groups in almost every major industry which utilizes or manufactures chemicals and has addressed the Chemical Manufacturers Association. She has lectured before research scientist and technicians in the food, drug, cosmetics, fragrances, pesticides, metals, plastics, color and paper industries.

Dr. Joseph Bellina, Lawser Research Foundation, New Orleans, Louisiana, will speak at a meeting on Thursday, November 7, at 9:00 a.m. and again at 10:30 a.m. in Ballroom Three at the Stafford Inn.

According to Dr. Bellina, the marriage of the microscope and the surgical laser has catapulted infertility science into the 21st century. Dr. Bellina is an internationally recognized pioneer in infertility research and treatment and was the first surgeon to perform laser microsurgery on the female reproductive tract.

A complete listing of speakers who will be in Tuscaloosa for the science conference will be published in the MONDAY REPORT next week. All events are free and are open to the public.

PAGEANT HELP NEEDED

The 1986 Miss Shelton State Pageant is scheduled for February 15, 1986 and will be held at 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the junior college. The pageant, which is an annual event, will select the woman who will represent the college in the Miss Alabama Pageant in Birmingham in June. According to pageant director Judy Austin, the pageant has grown until more help is needed in various areas, such as advertising, decorations, publicity, etc. Any student or faculty member who would like to work on the pageant should contact Mrs. Austin, Lucy Kubiszyn or Sandra Day.

****

JOAN RIVERS TO BE AT UA HOMECOMING

Joan Rivers will be in Tuscaloosa for the University of Alabama's homecoming this week-end. Ms. Rivers will perform at 7:00 p.m. at Foster auditorium. Tickets are $15 and may be purchased from Pizitz department store and Vinyl Solution/Sound Shop.

****

HAPPY HALLOWEEN

PARA will offer the annual House of Horrors now through October 31 at the Queen City pool site on River Road. The haunted house will be open for guided tours 6-10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 5-11 p.m. on Halloween night.

Shelton State students with a valid I.D. card will be admitted for 50¢. General admission is $1.00